Rose Library shares archival items at fun monthly events

If you’ve always wanted to see Rose Library’s rare archival materials but didn’t want to make a formal appointment, make plans to attend the themed Miscellaneous Monthly open house events, held on the third Tuesday of each month from 1-3 p.m. in the Rose Library. Recent themes have included Animals in the Archives (September 2025) and Fashion through the Ages (November 2025), which featured an 1830s French publication with fashion plates inside. These drop-in events are open to the public at no charge.

The next event is Tuesday, Dec. 16, when the focus is on “Striking Characters,” the typewriter-themed exhibition in the Schatten Gallery (closing Dec. 20!). It will feature archival materials related to "The Wiz," "Dracula," typewriters, and more. For this month’s event only, building access is restricted to Emory cardholders due to final exams period, so if you’re planning to attend, email Hale at ghale3@emory.edu to let her know.

Emory Libraries and Carlos Museum get ready for some World Cup soccer

This spring, Emory Libraries is coordinating a series of events and exhibitions in the lead-up to the World Cup soccer events in the US in June and July. Keep your eye on our “Footwork” events page as additional details become available.

Highlights include three exhibitions:

- Footwork: Celebrating Soccer, Culture, and Community
Opening event: Feb. 19, 2026
Schatten Gallery and Jones Room, Level 3 of Woodruff Library
This event to celebrate our newest exhibition will kick off with a conversation with curators Randy Gue (Rose Library) and Melissa Carnegie (Kicks & Fros) on soccer in their own lives, alongside student reflections on why the game and sports in general bring us together.
- Footwork Firsts
Opens February 2026
Second Floor Gallery, Oxford College Library
This exhibition will spotlight Emory College’s pioneering moments in athletics and diversity and explore how sports have been a driving force of Emory’s integration and globalization.
- Footwork: Where We Gather
Feb. 26-July 19, 2026
Michael C. Carlos Museum
This exhibition will celebrate Atlanta’s sports culture through Sheila Pree Bright’s photography, capturing the community, tradition, and belonging that sports inspire. From United tailgates to Falcons training camps and beyond, Pree Bright focuses on the fans and their connection to the teams they love. Information on an opening event to come.

Holiday relaxing with books, movies, and music

Now that fall semester is nearly in the books, it’s time for winter break relaxation, and holiday traveling for some of us. Our librarians and library staff have submitted their favorite leisure-time entertainment picks – what they’re reading, watching, and listening to – so that you might add a few titles to your own list. Enjoy!
