

April 2019

Dance students inspired by Rose Library archives

The archives of civil rights activists, poets, a fortuneteller, and a composer, as well as a collection of African American photos, inspired the choreography of Emory University dance students.

READ MORE

Second Bound with History event set for April 17

Make plans to attend "History of the Early Book," the second event in the Bound with History: Encounters with the Rose Library's Collections series. Book historians Jenny Bledsoe and Nick Wilding will talk about 15th and 16th century books, followed by a viewing of Rose Library rare books.

REGISTER
NOW

ECDS launches Cyclorama tour app

The Emory Center for Digital Scholarship (ECDS) recently announced the launch of a web-based mobile application. The app guides users to five tour stops in present-day Atlanta, enabling them to see what major battlefields in the Battle of Atlanta Cyclorama painting look like today.

The newly restored painting is on display at the Atlanta History Center.

LEARN MORE

High school student interns with LITS

Cristo Rey Atlanta Jesuit High School sophomore Kevin Jennings is thoroughly enjoying his internship with the Emory Libraries and Information Technology Services, and he's now inspired to apply to Emory for his college education.

READ MORE

Wikipedia Edit-a-thon a success

The 4th annual Art + Feminism Wikipedia Edit-a-thon at Emory's Woodruff Library, held on March 21, was a success.

Ten editors added over 2,750 words, edited 25 articles, made 49 edits, and created one new article. See more photos at the link below.

VIEW PHOTOS

SUBSCRIBE TO KEYWORDS

KEYWORDS
ARCHIVE

LIBRARY NEWS
& CALENDAR

MAKE A GIFT

libraries.emory.edu